About NASASPS

Mission

The National Association of State Administrators and Supervisors of Private Schools (NASASPS) is non-profit tax-exempt charitable organization whose mission is to improve and promote effective state regulation of private postsecondary education.

Goals

The following strategic goals have been adopted by NASASPS as it carries out its mission:

- Act as the national voice for states
- Provide policy leadership
- Promote best practices
- Deliver professional development
- Create strategic partnerships
- Advocate for quality private postsecondary options for students

Why Membership?

OUR COMMUNITY

The diversity and depth of the NASASPS membership body is what makes it a truly unique organization. NASASPS members consist of individuals from state administration and regulatory bodies to oversight and accrediting agencies, as well as schools, associations and private consultants—all of whom contribute a broad range of expertise and knowledge to this valuable community.

The collaboration and information sharing are invaluable. Words do not sufficiently describe how vital this aspect of NASASPS is to state regulators.

- NASASPS Member

I believe NASASPS to be one of the best assets to my office and overall knowledge in keeping informed.
