Who We Are

‘Educating Those Who Serve’

American Public University System has been dedicated to educating those who serve since our doors first opened in 1991. The American Public University System (APUS) is a fully online system, encompassing both American Military University and American Public University. We are accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) of the North Central Association.

Mission and Goals

Mission: To provide quality higher education with emphasis on educating the nation’s military and public service communities by offering respected, relevant, accessible and affordable, student-focused online programs, which prepare them for service and leadership in a diverse, global society.

- Founded as American Military University (AMU) in 1991 by James P. Etter, a Marine Corps Officer
- In 2002, AMU expanded into the American Public University System (APUS), adding American Public University (APU)
- Nationally Accredited (DETC) in 1995
- Regionally Accredited (NCA) in 2006
- Serving over 110,000 students worldwide

STRATEGY:

- Focus on quality and affordability
- Graduate successful alumni who make important contributions to society and their professions
- Enhance America’s competitiveness by meaningfully increasing the population with college degrees
- Collaborate with other universities to create solutions to U.S. higher education challenges
